

An online workshop with Simon Porter:

How To: Writing For Business English

When: Saturday, October 3rd 2020, 10:00 - 12:30

Location: Zoom

Come join us for an online workshop with Simon Porter on teaching writing for BE on Saturday, October 3rd at 10:00 A.M.

Workshop description: I used to hate teaching writing when I worked in language schools, and did everything I could to minimise or avoid doing so. It was only when I started to work in-house at a law firm (with demanding lawyers) did I realise firstly, how important writing is; and secondly, how to start teaching writing skills effectively. So, if you're worried about teaching writing, or you would like to know just why it is so important, then please join me online.

One thing you have to know You don't have to be an expert in writing to teach how to write effectively.

Bio: I graduated with a Law degree in 2001, and gained my CELTA in 2006. I have taught English in Poland since then. I have taught legal English writing in Bar Associations in Poland and many law firms. Website: WrittenLegalEnglish.com
