

A workshop with Alex Warren:

Teaching with TED

When: Tuesday 13th October 2020, 4pm – 5:30pm

Location: Online

In many ways TED Talks are a perfect fit for the English language classroom, be that a face-to-face or virtual one, as they can be used in so many different ways to develop different skills. In this practical session we'll explore how you can use TED Talks to supplement your core course content to not only keep your students engaged but also how, with a touch of creativity, they can be exploited to develop students' key 21st century skills. We'll start by looking at how you can go about choosing an appropriate talk, before moving onto the kind of activities you could do pre-viewing as well as post-viewing, so that by the end of the session you'll have plenty of ideas to try out.

Alex is a DELTA trained teacher trainer with over 15 years' experience of working in ELT as a teacher, academic director and teacher trainer. Prior to his experiences in ELT, Alex worked as a journalist before a chance encounter in the Indonesian jungle began him on the path which has led him to working with National Geographic Learning. A firm believer in a communicative approach to language learning and student-centred learning, Alex enjoys working with innovative, thought-provoking materials and presenting on a wide range of ELT-related topics, all the while driven by his passion for developing teachers on a global scale and helping them to reach their true potential.
