
The London School of Business English Munich

What we offer:

- A very competitive hourly rate
We believe that experience and expertise should be rewarded
- Up-to-date digital material
Alongside your own material, we can offer you some interactive digital material
- One-to-one and group training
We work with some of Munich's top multinationals and have great clients
- A cooperative and fun partnership
We believe in mutual respect and building a win-win partnership between us and trainers

Online Business English and in-house training in and around Munich

The London School of Business English Munich is a language institute providing corporate clients with online and in-house Business and Legal English training.

You are:

- a motivated and enthusiastic English speaker of native standard
- experienced at teaching Business English online and in person
- reliable and conscientious
- well-organised and proactive

You have:

- good interpersonal skills and a good sense of humour
- CELTA or similar qualification
- experience in creating your own material
- ideally business experience and a university degree

As a lot of our training is online, it is not necessary that you live in Munich but it is a plus. Please send your CV and cover letter to Chris at the email address below.

London School
Munich